

Artist Bio: DAViD M. ALLeN

David Allen was born August 10th 1969 in South Bend, Indiana USA. He was interested in drawing at very early age and won many local art awards. In 1992 he graduated with honors from Purdue University and earned a Bachelors degree in Fine Art and an Associates degree in Technical Graphics. After graduation, Allen accepted a Graphic Artist position at Purdue University, and in 1996 became the Director of Multimedia Resources for the School of Pharmacy at Purdue and works there at present. In 2003 he earned a Masters degree in Fine Art from Purdue and opened his first solo exhibition entitled “Elemental Worlds.” The unique compositions of the work in this exhibition combined Allen’s drawings, writings, and 3D computer graphics into both printed and animated imagery.

David M. Allen’s work has been featured at SIGGRAPH, and published in Computer Artist Magazine, AV Video, IEEE Computer Graphics and Applications, The Journal of Physical Chemistry, and The Journal of Organic Chemistry. Also, he has coauthored several computer based instructional applications that are used at Purdue University and other universities around the world.
